NC House District 76

★VOTE★ 2020

	What are the three most important issues facing your district/ constituents?	How would you work to enhance economic development in the district?	Is the state's current Confederate monuments law in need of modifying? Was the city within authority to make a deal relocating the "Fame" statue?
Harry Warren Republican/Incumbent Address: 201 Kingsbridge Rd. Salisbury, NC 28144 Age: 70 Occupation: Human Resource Specialist Education: Kent State University	Warren wants to continue addressing education, health care and the economy, particularly due to the impacts on all three from the COVID-19 pandemic.	"The main thing is keeping your eyes open, ears open and communicating with folks to find out what are the impediments to your business and your company for growing and developing and moving on. And what can we do in the legislature to help bring companies in here to be competitive."	"I think the legislative intent was clear that safety hazard pertained to the structural integrity of the monument," adding that the law could be clarified. "In that sense, I believe that those questions should be put before the people in that area."
Al Heggins Democrat/Challenger Address: 1210 Old West Innes St. Salisbury, NC 28144 Age: 56 Occupation: Salisbury Mayor Pro Tem Education: UNC-Charlotte	Foundational to Heggins' platform is eradicating poverty in North Carolina. To do so, Heggins supports expanding workers' rights, expanding Medicaid and funding education fully.	Lawmakers have to continue being engaged with business owners. If elected, she wants to focus on East Spencer's development. "There's been lots of money that has come into North Carolina and quite frankly, not enough of that money has come into Rowan County to support our small businesses."	"We didn't need a lightning rod in the middle of our city that was beginning to draw more violent crime." Heggins said the state law in place constrains local governments, but that it's not the only law that constrains local governments.
